Lots of moving parts right now please be very mindful of the calendar as we move into State Testing Season

Here is what is coming your way:

Progress Reports will be posted to the grade books on April 22, please use this time to get caught up on any overdue lessons.

4/15 M-F 9:30 Live class will open to all students in the Hive

As of 4/15 M/T in Live Class will be open to all students and there will not be a sign up for the Novel Study. If you are in class those days participation is expected. I have attached the slides that we will be using for the Novel study.

Novel Study: Tornado

This will start in Live Class on 4/15. Tornado will run for 7 weeks and have a series of small assignments attached to it. You can find a PDF of the book linked on our class website.

Math: We will continue with the Project Based Learning Projects through the remainder of the school year. These will all be worth 20 points each. Please help support your child with these hands on learning activities. Attached you will find the slides for the perimeter project. In a few short weeks students will be working on Fractions. This can be a very challenging concept for students. Math anxiety tends to increase in 3rd grade around fractions. We will be doing some mini SEL lessons before our math in Live Class. Here are some tools to help your child be successful.

- Frax: You will log into Clever, then go into Explore Learning, then Frax. Have your child spend 20-30 minutes twice a week working in Frax.
- Virtual Calming Room: <https://virtualcalmingroom.net/>

Hearts Around the World: We will be sending a letter to space:

If you would like to participate in the postcard that we will be sending to space please send me a webmail with 50 words or less about your vision of life on space no later than March 25th. This is a hard deadline and letters will not be accepted after this date.
